

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But when large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy. Instead of something produced at "News Central" far away, it's more important that we see real people from our own communities and more substantive news about issues that matter.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you. Sinclair's FCC license should be revoked for even considering airing obviously devious republican propaganda. Sinclair is showing it's grievous misuse of power over the airwaves... and Sinclair has proven that it fully intends to sway a national election. Sinclair should be broken up or have it's license revoked, there is no other answer if we are to remain a free society who values the freedom of speech and free, honest elections.

Thank you for listening.
